OUR STICKLEY STORY

Aminy I. Audi

Dear Friends,

Since its founding in 1900, Stickley has received many worthy tributes and awards.

In 2014 our company received national recognition as one of the healthiest companies in America by Interactive Health, the leading provider of outcomes-based health management solutions. Stickley was recognized for its efforts to prioritize employee wellness and create an ongoing culture of health. Our year-round wellness program, "Stickley Fit for Life," has impacted the quality of life of our employees from smoking cessation, and the biggest loser weight loss program, to walk at work, and annual base line testing. Individuals are delighting in taking personal responsibility for their well-being while enjoying the fun and camaraderie of their colleagues.

During the gathering of our dealers in June, we celebrated the 40th anniversary of our family's purchase of Stickley. In recognition of our revitalizing the iconic Stickley brand, our dealers presented us with a tribute engraved on a beautiful silver tray, reminiscent of one Leopold Stickley received in 1956. It reads in part: To the Audi Family Whose commitment to craftsmanship and steadfast stewardship of the ideals exemplified by Gustav, John George, Leopold Stickley and Alfred Audi have contributed mightily to American home life.

Congratulations from your loyal dealer family

Our family is humbled by these various tributes. Our focus remains, first and foremost, on our core mission of offering the highest quality home furnishings, the creation of enduring value and providing unparalleled customer service.

While steeped in history and tradition, Stickley is always evolving and looking to the future. We have diversified our product offering in response to changing lifestyles. Our timeless Mission designs have shown their capacity to abide and contribute to a sense of beauty, comfort and good living. The designs in this Modern Collection are simple yet sophisticated, with a certain degree of understated elegance. They help you create inspiring rooms that blend beautifully with favorite classics and lifelong collectibles.

Over the years, many of you have written us letters and stories- a most recent one was shared by the proud parents who received this as a thank you note from their daughter:

Edward J. Audi

Dear Mom and Dad,

The Stickley rocking chair is very symbolic...an item of furniture that beckons infants and nonagenarians. In 2015, I will be sitting in it as I read and contemplate inequities in global health. In 2020, I hope that you will be sitting in it as you rock and bond with a child of mine. In 2030, you will be sitting in it somewhere in my house where you will then be living so that you can be present in my children's lives and I can help with whatever you need assistance with. In 2050, I will be sitting in it...gray/white hair, perhaps knitting or perhaps just taking in what will be going on around me, ideally holding my grandchildren. In 2114, some Welch will be sitting in it, not someone that we will ever know about or meet, but a descendent of you two, someone who will be preserving the dual legacy of cherishing both fine family and fine furniture. Love, Beth Throughout this catalog you will find Stickley stories. These are real stories by real people, and they reflect the Stickley story which is rich in family tradition and enduring relationships. It is also the story of connection to home as a gathering place filled with warmth, friendship and magical moments.

We hope you enjoy browsing through this Modern catalogyou are likely to find something that helps you transform your home into a sanctuary of grace and beauty. From our family to yours, we thank you for making Stickley a part of your family legacy and look forward to hearing your own Stickley story.

Sincerely,

Aming J. Audi Eland Sent.

THE STICKLEY FAMILY

ROOTED IN THE PAST, DESTINED FOR THE FUTURE

Since its beginning, Stickley has been known as a company that is cutting edge, modern, and constantly evolving.

In 1900, L. & J.G. Stickley helped to usher in a new stylistic form with their inaugural line of "simple furniture built along mission lines", setting a standard for fine American woodwork for the entire furniture industry and overtaking the popularity of overwrought Victorian furniture.

When tastes changed in the 1920s, and the Colonial Revival style became popular, Leopold was ready, and designed his new Cherry Valley Collection based on the 18th century antiques he had purchased in Europe. This updated American colonial collection was crafted with the same uncompromising quality as the earlier Mission line and won rave reviews. This line established Stickley as the premier solid cherry manufacturer in the world. By 1957, Leopold Stickley had died, but what remained was a company that was the most respected and admired in the nation. Leopold's widow Louise, aided by many of the founder's original staff, continued moving the company forward, insisting that all aspects of quality manufacturing be preserved.

A new era began for Stickley in 1974 when Alfred and Aminy Audi purchased the company and guided it to new levels of accomplishments, reviving and growing the business from 22 employees to over 1400 artisans and craftspeople today.

Furthering the Craftsman ideal of making solid, well-crafted furnishings, the Audis saved a company that could have easily closed its doors. In 1989, when the past became modern again, the Audi's reissued the Mission Collection in 1989.

Today, Stickley continues to push the boundaries of design and create furniture with modern lines and surprising silhouettes, crafted with the same tradition, sensibility and workmanship of days gone by.

ENDURING CRAFTSMANSHIP

Hand rubbing is just one of the ways to achieve the depth and clarity of the legendary Stickley finish.

Legendary Finishing

The extraordinary care and skill that go into Stickley finishes guarantee that each piece of furniture has its own singular beauty. Every finish is deep, radiant, and displays the innate glow of the natural wood to its best advantage.

Stickley finishes sparkle with clarity and depth due to an extensive process of hand sanding and layering of aniline dyes, a process that takes at least four days to complete. A final topcoat provides a heat, alcohol and mar resistant surface, culminating in a soft lustrous patina.

The Allure of Cherry

The Stickley Modern Collection is with every color tone in between.

only the finest quality cherry.

predominately crafted of solid, wild black cherry. Cherry is a unique wood, mellowing and deepening in richness of color as it ages and ranging from deep red to nearly white,

At Stickley, craftspeople blend the shade and grain to create balance in each piece, celebrating the natural variations in the wood. Coming from family owned forests in New York and Pennsylvania, Stickley selects

A talented craftsman proudly signs his initials on every Stickley piece.

After intensive machine sanding, every piece of furniture is thoroughly hand sanded, even the insides of drawers. Excess glue is carefully removed from all joints, all sharp edges are eliminated, joints are flush, any scratch marks are removed, and the pores of the wood are opened.

"Als Ik Kan"

The Stickley motto, "Als ik Kan" originated with Flemish painter Jan Van Eyck and loosely translates to "All I Can"

or "To the Best of my Ability", a motto that was followed then and now by Stickley craftspeople. Stickley's many unique construction features make it the most lasting furniture being crafted today. Master cabinetmakers proudly put their initials on every piece they build.

Many Stickley drawers are side hung and center guided, and each is patiently hand-fitted into its case by a skilled Stickley artisan.

FINISH OPTIONS

Finish Options

The images printed here cannot begin to convey the luster, depth, clarity and precise tone of our hand-rubbed finishes. They are intended only to show the wide variety of finishes that we offer. Please use it as a general reference, but not as the basis for selecting your finish. We encourage you to visit an authorized Stickley dealer near you to experience the beauty of our finishes first hand.

Cherry Finishes

718 Morris Plains

Natural color (no stain), allowing the cherry to sparkle and age on its own. Lacquer, waxed. Low sheen.

27 Cornwall

Warm, reddish-brown, antiqued with highlights and strike-outs. Lacquer, rubbed to a medium sheen.

98 – Expresso Dark contrasting finish, close to black stain without actually being black, rubbed to a medium sheen.

Casual Cherry Finishes

91N Bristol (no distressing) Lighter color, medium sheen, no distressing.

Premium Cherry Finishes

91L Bristol (lightly aged) Lighter color, medium sheen, lightly aged.

713 Central Valley Just slightly darker than 718 Morris Plains. Aniline dye, lacquer, waxed. Low sheen.

3 Aged Old Mansion Light cherry, medium sheen, lacquer top coat. Stimulates aged cherry that is several years old.

Lightly antiqued, with the soft brown patina of a country heirloom. Lacquer, waxed. Low sheen.

18 Mocha

A chocolate dark brown of consistent tone, that diminishes grain variation. Low sheen.

20 Hazelnut (no distressing) A rich, mellow, medium brown with a low sheen, no distressing and gentle burnishing throughout.

93N Oxford Darker color, medium sheen, no distressing.

92N Windsor (no distressing)

Medium color, medium sheen, no distressing.

92L Windsor (lightly aged) Medium color, medium sheen, lightly aged.

93L Oxford (lightly aged) Darker color, medium sheen, lightly aged.

AN ENDLESS ARRAY OF OPTIONS

We take pride in being able to customize our products to create your dreams. Over 1800 fabrics and leathers provide more than enough choices to create a custom product that is uniquely yours!

Whatever your style, we offer a fabric or leather choice that is the perfect complement to your Stickley furniture... and the perfect expression of your unique lifestyle!

Note: Speak to your designer for a complete selection of our available fabrics and leathers. Fabrics and leather selection is subject to change.

WARRANTY

We believe so strongly in the integrity of our workmanship that we offer you the Stickley Lifetime Promise. We want you to be truly pleased with your Stickley furniture as it becomes an important part of your family for generations to come.

We offer a Manufacturer's Limited Lifetime Warranty against defects on all case goods except dining and office chairs. Should the furniture fail structurally at any time during the lifetime of the original owner, because of workmanship or material, we will repair or replace it at our discretion. Stickley offers a Five-Year Manufacturer's Limited Warranty against defects on the following: dining chairs, office chairs, finishes, and mechanical devices (clock movements, recliner mechanisms, etc.).

Should these items fail within five years of the purchase due to manufacturing defects, we will repair or replace it at our discretion.

This warranty does not apply to fabric or leather supplied by Stickley or the customer. Warranty does not apply to customer damage, alteration, or accident. Seasonal wood movement on solid wood products is normal and is not considered a warranty issue.

For a copy of the Stickley Warranty in its entirety, please ask your Stickley retailer or visit www.stickley.com.

With proper care, and the Stickley Lifetime Promise, you can be assured that your Stickley furniture is destined to become a cherished family heirloom.

DESIGN

Stickley reserves the right to change, modify, discontinue or improve any product designs, finishes, or specifications at its discretion and without prior notice.

THE CHARACTER OF CHERRY

Owners of vintage Stickley furniture will attest to the rich patina that cherry hardwood develops over time. As cherry ages, it mellows and deepens in color. This natural phenomenon makes each piece of cherry furniture a unique work of art. The degree of color change will depend on the finish selected and the furniture's exposure to light. Please note that newer pieces will vary slightly in color from older pieces due to this characteristic, even if they are in the same finish.

Cherry wood can contain small sap pockets or twig starts that may appear to be blemishes, but are completely natural and to be expected in any piece of solid cherry furniture. Another characteristic of cherry is its broad color spectrum—ranging from deep red to nearly white, with every color tone in between.

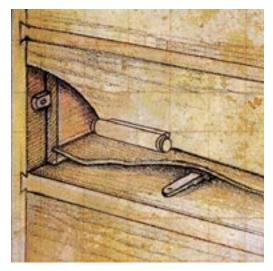

At Stickley, we do our best to blend the shades and grain of cherry to create a balance on each piece, but there will be variations visible. You are buying a product of nature. Enjoy the organic character of each piece.

CARE

Since 1900, Stickley craftsmen have been making history by creating masterful pieces of furniture by hand. From designing each piece to executing the intricate details of making it a work of art, each step is meticulously perfected. Because we have taken so much care in making the treasured antiques of the future, we hope you will cherish each Stickley piece, and care for it accordingly, preserving its original beauty which will undoubtedly be enhanced with age. Please contact your Stickley dealer or sales professional for detailed care guidelines for Stickley finishes or email us at care@stickley.com.

UNIQUELY STICKLEY

The details shown here explain a few of Stickley's unique and time-honored construction techniques. As you become familiar with distinguishing characteristics of fine furniture, bear in mind that most of these techniques are used only by Stickley.

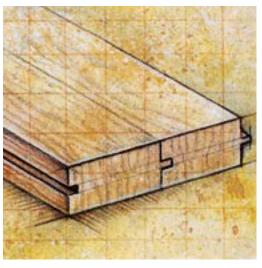

Side Hung & Center Guided Drawers

No plastic parts to break, no metal to rust and scratch: just honest to goodness hand craftsmanship. The center guide keeps drawers from skewing sideways while side suspension keeps drawers level when heavily loaded. Stickley drawers never scrape the bottom, and open and close with ease forever.

Placing of Glass with Quarter Rounds

Instead of using a single sheet of glass on bookcases, Stickley pieces include individual panes of glass that are secured with wood quarter rounds that are mitered to fit perfectly in place, making the inside of each door as handsome as the outside.

Tongue & Groove Joints

This woodworking technique ensures accurate board alignment and gives individually matched boards the appearance of one solid piece of wood. This joint does not crack or split and allows for greater finished thickness on all tops.

Pinned Mortise and Tenon Joints

Most Stickley door joints are mortise and tenoned, glued, and then pinned with wooden pins. The pins lock the joint and supply additional strength creating a joint that would hold together even without the use of glue.

Book Matching

By splitting boards down the center and then opening them up like a book, an identical grain pattern is revealed. This labor intensive process assures beautifully matched grain panels on all pieces, as opposed to randomly matched boards.

Bed Rail Construction

For a good night's sleep every night, the side rails of all Stickley beds are mortised and tenoned into the posts, while the ends of the rails feature panhead screws secured into an iron casting—all to ensure that the bed will not wobble or rock.

Dovetailed Cross Rails

Cross rails dovetailed into end panels strengthen the case from side to side. Separation of the end panels is impossible unless the wood is split apart. This joint is self-locking even before the glue is applied. 21st Century designs use a blind dovetail.

A talented craftsman proudly signs his initials on every Stickley piece.
